I. OBJECTIVE:

To establish guidelines affecting the use of force by members of the Correction and Law Enforcement Divisions of the SCSO; the authority for such action, its legal limitations, and the necessity for determining what level of force is appropriate in each and every instance.

PREAMBLE TO USE OF FORCE - The use of force by members of law enforcement is a matter of critical concern both to the public and law enforcement community. It is recognized that some individuals will not comply with the law or submit to control unless compelled to do so by the use of force; therefore, law enforcement officers are sometimes called upon to use force in the performance of their duties. It is also recognized that members of law enforcement derive their authority from the public and therefore must be ever mindful that they are not only the guardians, but also the servants of the public.

II. POLICY:

The SCSO's guiding value when using force shall be reverence for human life. When warranted, SCSO members may objectively use reasonable force to carry out their duties. Officers who use unreasonable force degrade the confidence of the community we serve, expose the SCSO and fellow officers to legal and physical hazards and violate the rights of individuals upon whom unreasonable force is used. Conversely, SCSO members have a Duty to Act and who fail to use force when warranted may endanger themselves, the community and fellow officers.

III. PROCEDURES:

A. DEFINITIONS - For the purpose of this directive the following definitions apply:

- 1. Objectively Reasonable - The legal standard used to determine the lawfulness of a use of force is the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution. (See Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 (1989). Graham states in part, "The reasonableness of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. The calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments – in circumstances that are tense, uncertain and rapidly evolving – about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation. The test of reasonableness is not capable of precise definition or mechanical application.” The force must be reasonable under the circumstances known to the officer at the time the force was used. Therefore, the SCSO examines all uses of force from an objective standard, rather than a subjective standard.

2. Dangerous instrument - means any instrument, article or substance, including a "vehicle" as that term is defined below, which, under the circumstances in which it is used, attempted to be used or threatened to be used, is readily capable of causing death or serious physical injury.
3. Deadly physical force - means physical force which, under the circumstances in which it is used, is readily capable of causing death or serious physical injury.
4. Deadly weapon - means any loaded weapon from which a shot, readily capable of producing death or other serious physical injury, may be discharged, or a switchblade knife, gravity knife, pilum ballistic knife, dagger, billy, blackjack, or metal knuckles.
5. Correctional Facility - means any place used for the confinement, pursuant to an order of a court, of a person charged with or convicted of an offense.
6. Firearm - means (a) any pistol or revolver; or (b) a shotgun having one or more barrels less than eighteen inches in length and any weapon made from a shotgun (whether by alteration, modification, or otherwise) if such weapon as modified has an overall length of less than twenty-six inches; or (c) a rifle having one or more barrels less than sixteen inches in length and any weapon made from a rifle (whether by alteration, modification, or otherwise) if such weapon, as modified, has an overall length of less than twenty-six inches.
7. Reasonable belief that a person has committed an offense - means a reasonable belief in facts or circumstances which, if true, would constitute an offense.
8. Serious physical injury - means physical injury which creates a substantial risk of death, or which causes death or serious and protracted disfigurement, protracted impairment of health or loss or impairment of the function of any bodily organ.
9. Vehicle - means a motor vehicle, trailer or semi- trailer as defined in the vehicle and traffic law, any snowmobile as defined in the parks and recreation law, any aircraft, or any vessel equipped for the propulsion by mechanical means or by sail.

It is the responsibility of each member to be thoroughly familiar with the conduct described in Article 35, and with the definitions pertinent thereto which appear in Articles 10, 35 and 265 of the Penal Law, and with SCSO policy as stated.

B. Use of Force:

1. In general terms, force is authorized to be used when reasonably believed to be necessary to effect a lawful arrest or detention, prevent the escape of a person from custody, or in defense of one's self or another.
2. Under the 4th amendment a police officer may use only such force as is "objectively reasonable" under the circumstances. The reasonableness of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene.
3. Factors Used to Determine Reasonableness - The SCSO examines reasonableness using Graham and from the articulated facts from the perspective of a Seneca County Sheriff's Deputy with similar training and experience placed in generally the same set of circumstances. In determining the appropriate level of force, SCSO members shall evaluate each situation in light of the facts and circumstances of each particular case. Those factors may include, but are not limited to:
 - a. The seriousness of the crime or suspected offense;
 - b. The level of threat or resistance presented by the subject;
 - c. Whether the subject was posing an imminent threat to officers or a danger to the community;
 - d. The potential for injury to citizens, officers or subjects;
 - e. The risk or apparent attempt by the subject to escape;
 - f. The conduct of the subject being confronted (as reasonably perceived by the officer at the time);
 - g. The time available to an officer to make a decision;
 - h. The availability of other resources;
 - i. The proximity or access of weapons to the subject;
 - j. Officer versus subject factors such as age, size, relative strength, skill level, injury/exhaustion and number of officers versus subjects; and
 - k. The environmental factors and/or other exigent circumstances.

C. Duty to intervene:

1. Any officer present and observing another officer using force that he/she reasonably believes to be clearly beyond that which is objectively reasonable under the circumstances shall intercede to prevent the use of unreasonable force, if and when the officer has a realistic opportunity to prevent harm.

2. An officer who observes another officer use force that exceeds the degree of force as described above in sub A of this section should promptly report these observations to a supervisor.

IV. PHYSICAL FORCE -

- A. A member of the SCSO, while effecting or attempting to effect an arrest, or preventing or attempting to prevent the escape from custody of a person who is reasonably believed to have committed an offense, may use physical force when and to the extent it is reasonably believed that such action is necessary to effect the arrest, prevent the escape, or to defend oneself or a third party from what one reasonably believes to be the use or imminent use of physical force.
- B. A member who is charged with the duty of guarding one or more prisoners in the Detention Facility as that term is defined in the New York State Penal Law, Section 205.00, or while in transit to or from the correctional facility, may use physical force when and to the extent necessary to prevent the escape of a prisoner from the correctional facility or from custody while in transit thereto or there from.
- C. A member whose assigned duties include assuring the safety and security of the Seneca County Correctional Facility may, in order to maintain order and discipline, use such physical force as is authorized by New York State Correction Law, Section 137(2) which states "The commissioner shall provide for such measures as he may deem necessary or appropriate for the safety, security and control of correctional facilities and the maintenance of order therein."
- D. Concerning force other than deadly force, members will use only that degree of force necessary to the performance of their lawful duties. Such use of force must be within the limits set out in the Penal Law and must be consistent with training given or authorized by the SCSO.

NOTE - In accordance with Section 519 of the "Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1990," members are prohibited from using excessive force against any individuals engaged in nonviolent civil rights demonstrations.

V. DEADLY PHYSICAL FORCE –

- A. The United States Supreme Court in Tennessee v. Garner (471 U.S. 1 (1985) restricts an officer's use of deadly force – In delivering the opinion for the Supreme Court Of The United States, Justice White opined, "We conclude that such force may not be used unless it is necessary to prevent the escape and the officer has probable cause to believe that the suspect poses a significant threat of death or serious physical injury to the officer or others."

- B. Pursuant to Section 35.30 of the New York State Penal Law, a member may use deadly physical force, when he/she believes that the offense committed by such person was;
 - 1. a felony, or an attempt to commit a felony involving the use or attempted use or threatened imminent use of physical force against a person, or;
 - 2. kidnapping, arson, escape in the first degree, burglary in the first degree, or any attempt to commit such crime, or;
 - 3. the offense committed or attempted by such person was a felony and that, in the course of resisting arrest therefore or attempting to escape from custody, such person is armed with a firearm or deadly weapon, or;
 - 4. regardless of the particular offense which is the subject of the arrest or attempted escape, the use of deadly physical force is necessary to defend the police officer or peace officer or another person from what the member reasonably believes to be the use or imminent use of deadly physical force.
- C. The use of deadly physical force against a "fleeing felon" will be in accordance with the laws, directives and training governing such use of force. The "fleeing felon" will not be presumed to be an immediate danger to the member or a third person unless he poses a clear threat to the life of the member or of a third person; and, that threat demonstrates a wanton disregard for human life.
- D. A "fleeing felon" in a vehicle traveling away from a member does not constitute an imminent danger to that member; therefore, the use of deadly physical force is not justified. A member of the SCSO is prohibited from discharging a firearm from or at a moving vehicle unless it is reasonably believed that the occupants of the vehicle being fired upon are using or are about to use deadly physical force against the member or another person.
- E. Absent these conditions, a member is not justified in using deadly physical force against a "fleeing felon" and, therefore, such use of force is prohibited.
- F. The fact that a member of the SCSO is justified in using deadly physical force under the circumstances described above does not provide justification for reckless conduct.

VI. EXHIBITING & DRAWING FIREARMS -

- A. A member shall not draw a firearm in any place, except in the line of duty or for inspection by a superior officer.
- B. Nothing in this policy shall prohibit the drawing or exhibiting of a firearm in the line of duty when a member reasonably believes it necessary for his/her own safety or for the safety of others. Members may also draw and be ready to use a firearm anytime they have reasonable cause to believe that they or another person may be in immediate danger of death or serious physical injury.

- C. Any member drawing a weapon in a public place must be able to articulate the reasons for doing so consistent with this policy. Firearms shall not be displayed without justifiable cause.
- D. When a member determines that the danger is eliminated, the weapon will be holstered or in the case of a shotgun or rifle the shoulder weapon will be held in a safe condition and position. If the person is not arrested, the member will tell the individual the reason the weapon was pointed at him/her if the circumstances permit.

VII. MEMBER MEDICAL REQUIREMENTS IN USE OF FORCE INCIDENT -

- A. Whenever any member of the SCSO uses force in discharging one's duties, the member will take the following action:
 - 1. Evaluate the need for medical attention or treatment for the subject and, if necessary;
 - 2. Arrange for such attention or treatment when:
 - a. subject has a visible or apparent injury,
 - b. subject complains of an injury, discomfort or requests medical attention,
 - c. a chemical agent was used, or,
 - d. the Taser was deployed.
- B. In the event medical attention is refused by a subject who is considered to be in need of such medical assistance, the member will summon medical assistance. The subject can either refuse or accept such medical assistance in the presence of such medical personnel.

VIII. MEMBER REPORTING REQUIREMENTS –

- A. Officers shall prepare and submit a Use of Force report when:
 - 1. Physical resistance is encountered – and the officer has to physically respond.
 - 2. Any act such as striking, punching, kicking or pressure point , arm /wrist / etc.
 - 3. Any injury occurs or a subject complains of an injury or death occurs as the result of physical force.

If after a review by the Chief Deputy determines that further investigation is warranted, then the Undersheriff and Chief Deputy shall assign the necessary and appropriate personnel to review and investigate the incident (See “Professional Conduct Unit”), this manual. Any complaint received by the SCSO by way of a “Citizen Comment Form” or any other means alleging excessive force shall be investigated to the fullest extent

- C. In an effort to protect the community's interest when a member may have exceeded the scope of authority in the use of deadly physical force, and, conversely, to shield a member from possible confrontation with the community when acting within the scope of authority, the member may be reassigned from line-duty assignment to an administrative assignment pending an administrative review.
- D. Such review may include a Grand Jury investigation or any other process needed to insure a full investigation of the facts and circumstances of the incident. If deemed necessary, other members who may have been involved, however indirectly, may also be reassigned. Following such reassignment under this provision, the return to line-duty assignment shall be only with the express permission of the Sheriff.
